HONGKONG, JULY 3RD, 1905.

England had but one Cecil Rhodes. Japan has many who dream similar dreams, who "think in continents," and some of them, having been selling their dreams, have, like Joseph with his brethren, made themselves unpopular. Unpopular, that is to say, with a section of the foreign public, that section which is or pretends to be alarmed at the "Yellow Peril." A good many people who know and liked the Japanese, dreaded the effect upon their behaviour and attitude that decided victory over Russia might bring about. Stoical, expressionless as they seem, those who know them intimately know that they are men of like passions with ourselves. To those who anticipated that long training would succumb to strong feelings, and that there would be "Mafficking" in Japan, a very agreeable disappointment has come. Absolute confidence in the Government, and unwavering loyalty to the Throne, have been their safety-valve; and the pressure gauge has not once indicated anything alarming. This people, admirably patient under injustice and adversity, is able to contain itself when it might well be delicious with pride and delight. It is thus evident that there is no Yellow Peril behind the Japanese temperament. Is there really any more behind Japanese policy? The few newspapers in the Far East that have accepted the retaining fee of the advocates diabolical are making pathetic attempts on behalf of Russia to rob Japan of the world's friendship and sympathy. Every Power that has Asiatic possessions is threatened with the loss of them; and particularly those who have markets in China are warned that very soon China will be "Japanned," and all foreigners warned off. We are told that China will re-organise and become as strong as Japan, under Japanese teaching and influence; that the whole trade of China will fall to the enterprising Japanese, whose competition has already begun to be more than noticeable; and that if BRITANNIA continues to rule the waves, the waves of the Pacific will not have to be counted in. Of course Japan, when the war is over, is bound to advance commercially; but all this talk of "Japanning" China is the veriest nonsense. Those who accept the forecast forget what China is, and ever has been. Overrun time after time, having to submit to foreign teachers and alien legislators again and again, China continued to be China, absorbing her conquerors and her would be improvers as the sea absorbs all the rivers and torrents of fresh water without ceasing to be salt. Japan is welcome to do all she can in China, for having cast in her lot with the nations of civilisation and progress, her successes will be their successes. If Japan can succeed where others have failed, all the better; for who wishes the China of to-day and of yesterday to be the China of tomorrow? It is at present the one wheel of the world's machinery that refuses to go round. Some of them are revolving, strongly and silently; others, like Russia, slowly and creakingly at present; but all, save China, are turning in the desired direction. The big Chinese wheel alone rusts on the axle, and threatens to throw the rest out of gear. If the cogs of Japan bite into the cogs of China, and the two turn with the rest, where is the peril to the whole?

By noon on Saturday, the number of plague cases recorded had jumped to 203, an increase of eight. Five of the day's cases were fatal.

The name of John McCubbin has been added to the list of authorised architects under the Public Health and Buildings Ordinance of 1903.

The resignation of Surgeon-Lieutenant E. A. B. Leung of his commission in the Hongkong Volunteer Corps has been accepted by H. E. the Governor.

The appointment of Sir Francis Taylor Piggott as Chief Justice of the Colony of Hongkong is notified in Saturday's Gazette. The appointment takes effect from the 27th April inclusive.

To the Ordinance to amend the Sugar Convention Ordinance, 1904, and to the Ordinance, to amend the Vagrancy Ordinance, 1897, H. E. the Governor has given his assent in the name of and on behalf of His Majesty the King.

The total annual grants to the various schools of the Colony, as published in an appendix to the Government Gazette, are as follows:—English schools, $13,582; Chinese, $7,481; non-Chinese (one) $88; Vernacular, $27,308.

Before Mr. F. A. Hazeland at the Police Court on Saturday, Leung Mak, boarding house runner, was charged with boarding the s.s. Glaugle while under way in the harbour on Friday. He was ordered to pay a fine of $50, the alternative being two months' imprisonment.

Two hawkers, eager to get the first opportunity of displaying their wares to passengers on board the same vessel, were charged with boarding her after she was moored without the permission of the captain or officers. They were each fined $10, or fourteen days' imprisonment.

George Parker, a member of the Hongkong Constabulary, while doing special duty at the Ko Shing theatre on Saturday night, was seized with an attack of fever, and had to be removed to the Government Civil Hospital, where he died yesterday.

The German steamer Brunhilde which left Manila for Saigon on June 25th, to load a cargo of rice, took in tow the American ship Kanikow, which was coming to Hongkong for repairs. The Brunhilde was not to bring the sailing vessel all the way over, but simply to give her a start, and take her clear of the coast.

In a message to the Times, Dr. Morrison, its Peking correspondent, says the policy of Russia in subsidising organs of the pro-Russia Press is being extended. Mr. Pavlov now subsidising an important Chinese newspaper in Shanghai. Beginning on June 1st, the Minister was to start an English newspaper at Hankow; under an Englishman at present editing a Russian organ at Pien-tsin. The system, says Dr. Morrison, is not without effect in misleading ignorant Chinese.

There was an unusually disturbed night High Street, West Point, on Friday last, when a number of Street and Sanitary Board coolies lined the road in battle array. A dispute arose regarding the Triads, about whom the street and Sanitary coolies held different views. These were freely expressed, and the heated arguments led to blows, with the result that five men were arrested and charged before Mr. F. A. Hazeland at the Police Court on Saturday with obstructing and assaulting the Sanitary Board men while on duty. His Worship fined each of the defendants $10 or one month's hard labour, and in lieu of one day of the said imprisonment, six hours' stocks.

["DAILY PRESS" SERVICE.]

DEATH OF THE AMERICAN STATE SECRETARY.

LONDON, 1st July.

The Hon. Colonel John Hay, the American Secretary of State, is dead, aged sixty-seven years.

Mr. Secretary Hay was born in Indiana in October, 1838, and was a sixty years old when he became Secretary seven years ago. He possessed many legal diplomas. He began his official career as secretary and A.D.C. to President Lincoln; and held brief rank as colonel. His diplomatic career embraced high appointments at Paris, Madrid, Vienna, and London. He was Ambassador to England in 1897-98, and left then to take up his last office. In 1902, Congress specially thanked him for a memorial he presented on the death of President McKinley. He was a poet and historian, as well as politician.

ROCKEFELLER AND AMERICAN EDUCATION.

PRINCE ARISUGAWA IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, 29th June.

Fifteen hundred guests attended Viscount Hayashi's reception, which was most brilliant in function. Practically the whole of the Diplomatic body, the Japanese colony of London and the leaders of society were present. Prince Arisugawa has paid a visit to an exhibition of old Japanese arms organised by the Japanese Society. The King, who contributed a number of exhibits, arrived shortly after the Prince, and conducted His Majesty's round the exhibition.

LATER.

Prince Arisugawa in the evening attended a ball given by the Duke and Duchess of Westminster at Grosvenor House, at which the King and the Queen, and other Royalties were present.

LATER.

The luncheon at the Mansion House to Prince Arisugawa was a brilliant function. Two hundred and fifty guests were present, including Lord Lansdowne, the Cabinet Ministers, Mr. Chamberlain, the chiefs of the Army and the Navy, bankers and merchants. The Lord Mayor, in proposing the health of the Mikado, said that no monarch was regarded with greater admiration, and that the progress of Japan was the marvel of our time. The Lord Mayor then welcomed Prince Arisugawa as the distinguished representative of an allied nation. He emphasized the bravery, the resources, the self-restraint and the devotion of the Japanese during the war. Prince Arisugawa, replying in English, received a great ovation. He thanked the Lord Mayor for his reception by the illustrious city, the heart of the nation to which Japan was allied both by treaty and national sentiment. He referred to his happy early days in England, and concluded by saying "I am here as a channel by which Japan reciprocates your friendly sentiments and expresses sympathy with the whole of the British Empire." The Prince then conferred on the Lord Mayor, by order of the Emperor, the order of the Rising Sun.

On arriving, and leaving, the Prince was greeted by a huge crowd with loud and enthusiastic cheering. Prince Arisugawa and the Prince of Wales were present last night at a dinner given by Mr. Balfour.

THE MUTINY AT ODESSA.

LONDON, 29th June.

The correspondent of the Standard in Odessa writes that revolutionary mobs yesterday evening fired the Quarantine station, the warehouse, and other buildings at the harbour, and prevented the firemen from extinguishing the flames; the military were terrorised by the guns of the battleship Kniaz Potemkin, whose crew had mutinied late at night, and fired shell at the Cosack picket, killing and wounding 24; a torpedo boat accompanying the Kniaz Potemkin entered the harbour and seized a Russian steamer with 2,000 tons of coal. The Governor has telegraphed to Sevastopol for the fleet; and it is feared that the mutiny has spread. All the crews are disaffected; it is even reported that four battleships have already sailed, two of which are en route to Odessa. Grave anxiety is felt at Odessa, as many of the ships in the harbour are British.

It is now confirmed that all the officers of the battleship Kniaz Potemkin, except those, were murdered. A battleship and a cruiser have left Sevastopol with all haste for Odessa.

Before burning the warehouses at Odessa the mob carried off goods to the extent of a loss of a million roubles to the city. The town is enveloped in smoke, the shops shut, and traffic is suspended. The troops hold the main streets; hundreds of rioters have been shot, and the port is partially burned. Martial law has been proclaimed.

LATER.

The Kniaz Potemkin has commenced to bombard Odessa. At 11.30 last night the transport Vescha joined the mutineers. The naval arsenal at Liban has been maintained and wrecked the barracks. The artillery and Cosacks were called out, and fighting ensued, of which no detail, have yet been received. Four battleships, a cruiser, and four torpedo-boats have left Sevastopol with orders to sink the Kniaz Potemkin, if she refuses to surrender; and then to restore order in the town.

LATER.

The American Consul has wired to Washington that the fleet has arrived at Odessa, and that the Kniaz Potemkin had surrendered without firing a shot.

THE MOROCCO CONFERENCE.

LONDON, 1st July.

France has accepted the Morocco Conference.

A DESERTER.

LONDON, 29th June.

Fireman William Harkness of the s.s. Boyalist was charged before Mr. F. A. Hazeland at the Police Court on Saturday, at the instance of Captain Scott of the said vessel, with desertion.

The Captain informed His Worship that on the 25th ult. the defendant applied for and obtained a few hours leave to attend a mission meeting, from which he never returned.

Harkness informed His Worship that he was extremely sorry such a thing had happened, but on the day he landed he met some old "townies" and joined them in a good time, since when he had remained ashore. He was arrested by the police on Saturday morning lying in the road near the Sailors' Home, and was very sorry for the occurrence, as he bore an excellent character on board. He admitted that this was the second time he had been charged with a similar offence.

In reply to His Worship, the Captain stated that his ship would probably not leave for a week.

Defendant was sentenced to imprisonment with hard labour during the stay of the vessel in port, and ordered to be shipped before he sailed, so that he would not become a charge on the Colony.

HONGKONG VOLUNTEER CORPS.

GENERAL HATTON'S REPORT.

The following is the report furnished to H.E. the Governor by the G.O.C., Major General Villiers Hatton, and published in the Government Gazette.

"I was quite satisfied with the appearance of, and work done by, the Corps during the year. The shooting—if slow—was good. More 15-p. guns have been sold to the Corps. The Corps has been strengthened by the establishment of the Mounted branch, which will shortly be fully equipped. I have inspected them and was entirely satisfied with their turn out. They are a most useful addition. The Volunteer Reserve Association has also been formed, and strengthened the defence. I am glad to know that the provision of a Head Quarters is decided on."

REVOLVER PRACTICE RETURN.

THE DESTRUCTION OF THE "TETAROS."

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

The following telegram giving further particulars of the loss of the German steamer Tetarios was received by the Japanese Foreign Office:

"The German steamer Tetarios, chartered by the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, which left Otsu on May 23rd for Tientsin, was captured by the Russian armed cruiser Rion at a point about 60 miles south-east by south of the Shantung Promontory light at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of the 28th instant. The Tetarios followed the Russian cruiser until 7 o'clock on the morning of the following day (29th), when she was sunk at a point 122 deg. 4 min. E. Long, and 38 deg. N. Lat. The crew was taken aboard the Rion on 29th and 30th inst. The Russian vessel cruised about for six days and nights in a dense fog. At 5 o'clock on the afternoon of the 3rd instant, the Rion stopped a British steamer (Citronium) which was en route from Shanghai to Nagasaki. On the 4th instant the Rion steamed southwards at full speed and arrived at Batavia on the 14th inst. There the crew of the Tetarios was liberated on the 18th instant, and arrived at Singapore on the 18th instant. The crew, which was treated very unkindly on board the Rion, comprised seven Japanese (names given)

INSPECTOR OF SCHOOLS' REPORT.

The report of Mr. Edward A. Irvine, Inspector of schools at Hongkong, appears in the Government Gazette on Saturday. The following are extracts.

Regarding $500 paid by Mr. Arculli towards the cost of the Indian Schools explained below, the Revenue collected by the Department amounts to $7,177.50. The revenue collected has increased from $9.2 in 1900 to $7,177.50 in the year under review, or nearly eight-fold. The Expenditure on Education, including Queen's College, for the year was $151, 88, being 2.32 per cent of the estimated expenditure.

The number of Schools (Government and Grant) including Queen's College, is 81, of which 23 are upper grade schools and 58 are lower grade schools. An upper grade school means one in which at least part of the staff is European. Lower grade schools are those under purely native management. Broadly speaking the upper grade schools teach in English, and the lower grade schools teach in the Vernacular.

The number of scholars in the Government and Grant Schools are calculated from the average attendance. Now the average attendance in Hongkong Schools compared with the numbers on the rolls is very low, partly owing to the annual plague epidemic, which seriously depletes the schools during certain months of the year, and partly because the Chinese scholars are constantly withdrawn by their parents to attend social and religious functions at their homes on the mainland. The severity of the plague in 1904 and 1905 is reflected in the serious drop in the attendances for those years. Nevertheless a more accurate reproduction of the actual state of affairs is obtained by making the average attendance the basis of calculation, than would have been arrived at, had the total enrolment been used. The scholars of Hongkong, in the Vernacular Schools, especially, consider it desirable to change their schools with great frequency; and consequently a considerable proportion of them appear on the rolls of two or more schools in the same year. The greater regularity in the curves of the Government and Grant schools during the past few years must be ascribed in some degree to the greater strictness of the method of checking the attendances.

The slight decrease in the number of scholars in Government and Grant Vernacular schools is mainly due to the closing of Government Vernacular schools at Saiyungpui and Wantzal. As, however, the Chinese written language is now taught in all the Anglo-Chinese Government and Grant schools, the number of scholars receiving instruction in it has really increased. The curves showing the numbers of scholars in English and Vernacular schools not in receipt of aid from Government are based on enquiries made by the attendance officer, and cannot be considered as at all accurate. The Vernacular private schools are increasing in numbers, and some of them are now much more efficient than were the Government and Grant Vernacular schools of a few years ago, so rapidly is reform in education spreading.

The private English Schools are in some cases also very efficient. They include a school under the Church Missionary Society for the wealthier Chinese students, as well as one for European children, with an enrolment of over 40, recently opened on the Peak.

Reckoning the average attendance to be 80 per cent of the total enrolment, it may be estimated that about 6,200 scholars have attended Government and Grant schools during the year.

Thus the total number of scholars in receipt of education in the Colony may be reckoned as between 9,500 and 10,000, of whom about two-thirds are in schools supported in one way or another by the Government.

If the figures for 1895 are accurate, it appears that 10 years ago there were 5,000 scholars in average attendance at Government and Grant schools, and that the numbers now are about the same; with this difference, however, that 2/5ths but not 3/5ths of the scholars are learning English. The value of the education given has very greatly increased, both in English and Vernacular schools.

Victoria British School.—In the spring of the year, it was made known that if the European community considered the time were ripe to open a British School on the Hongkong side, corresponding to the Kowloon School, it would be well to petition the Government, and show the existence of a general feeling in that direction. The formation of such a school had been recommended by the Committee on Education. No steps were taken at that time by the parents concerned; and I, therefore, asked for no increase in the Estimates under this heading. I was, therefore, pleasantly surprised, when towards the end of August a petition was sent in, pointing out the urgent need of such a school. His Excellency the Governor approved the scheme. Sanction from home was obtained. The existing school on Caroline Hill was erected. Furniture was ordered, and a staff engaged. On completion of the structural improvements, the school will be opened on March 20th, within seven months of the receipt of the petition.

WEATHER REPORT.

The Hongkong Observatory yesterday issued the following report:—

On the 1st at 5.30 p.m. Orders issued to hoist the Red Drum.
On the 2nd at 10.55 a.m. Orders issued to hoist the Black Drum.
At 11.20 a.m. The barometer is rising in Formosa and falling rapidly along the coast between Hongkong and Amoy.
The typhoon is approaching the coast in the neighbourhood of Swatow and moving W.N.W.
Bad weather may be expected along the coast between Hongkong and Foochow.
Forecast:—N.W. to S.W. winds; freshening; fine at first, squally with rain later.

HONGKONG JOTTINGS.

The Chief Justice has not been long with us, but the Colonial Office List makes us familiar with his public services and enables us to feel that the honour of knighthood conferred upon Mr. Piggott by His Majesty the King is a deserved mark of appreciation. Sir Francis was employed by the Foreign Office on special service in 1887; he subsequently became legal adviser to the Prime Minister of Japan; then Secretary to Sir Charles Russell (when he held office as Attorney General) during the Behring Sea arbitration; and afterwards was successively procurator-general and Chief Justice at Mauritius until his appointment to Hongkong. Sir Francis is known to the legal fraternity also as author of "Foreign Judgments," "Services out of the Jurisdiction," "Extraterritoriality" and "Law of Tort." It is quite in accordance with precedent that appointment to the Chief Justiceship of Hongkong should be followed by knighthood. I do not know whether every holder of the office has entered upon his duties a plain "Mr.," and left it a knight but it has certainly been so in the majority of cases.

The conferment of the Imperial Service Order on Mr. A. Beth, the Registrar of the Supreme Court is also an honour which the community will regard as well-deserved. Mr. Beth has been in the public service of Hongkong since 1884, when he was appointed Hindustani interpreter at the Magistracy. Entering the Colonial Secretary's office as third clerk in 1882 he had risen to Clerk of Councils and Chief Clerk by 1881. Since then he has filled various offices with credit to himself and satisfaction to the Government. Called to the bar at Lincoln's Inn, in 1893, he was appointed deputy-registrar and appraiser of the Supreme Court in 1895, and about a year ago succeeded to the higher position. The Imperial Service Order is no cheap distinction. Only three other old public servants of this Colony are Companions of the Order; namely Mr. Charles Ford, late Superintendent of the Botanical and Forestry Department; Mr. Bruce Shepherd, land officer; and Captain Ramsey, R.N., late Harbour Master. The Hongkong community have also learnt with satisfaction of the conferment of this honour on Mr. B. C. G. Scott, the Consul-General at Canton, who has spent thirty-two years in the Consular service in China. I need hardly say that since he has been at Canton, Mr. Scott has rendered signal service to British commercial interests and he is one of the most popular officials in the Consular service.

There is never any complaint to be made respecting the P. & O. mail service to the Far East; it works with the greatest regularity. The last English mail reached Hongkong in 25 days, and suppose we may in future look forward to the English mail arriving here on a Wednesday as a regular thing. Four new mail steamers of 5,000 tons, required chiefly for the accelerated mail service between India and China, are expected to be at work at an early date. This will probably enable the P. & O. Company to recover some of their lost passenger traffic. I note also that two new cargo steamers of 10,000 tons—named the Poon and the Pekin—are now on the Eastern run. Englishmen in the East will cordially welcome their signs of enterprise on the part of the P. & O. Company.

A Singapore contemporary mentions a simple but extremely useful invention to which I have pleasure in drawing the attention of housekeepers here. It is a contrivance which can be attached to a wardrobe to keep its contents dry. It is called the "Hollen Krieger" and consists of two short lengths of gas piping so fixed that they pass through the wardrobe, one end projecting through the top, the other through the side, to which end is attached a metal funnel under which a lamp stands. The heat from the lamp warms the pipes and radiates through the wardrobe, and although sufficient to dry all clothes placed therein, is not enough to singe any article coming in contact with the piping. These contrivances ought to sell in Hongkong like hot cakes.

At the conclusion of the Legislative Council meeting on Wednesday His Excellency the Governor expressed the hope that it would not be necessary to call the Council together again until the Estimates are ready. The Estimates are usually laid before the Council in September. It may be inferred from this that the negotiations at Peking in reference to the Kowloon-Canton railway are not expected to be concluded for a few months yet. At the previous meeting of the Council His Excellency stated that before any agreement with the Chinese Government is made binding on that of this Colony, it would be submitted to the Council.

"Have you ever read David Copperfield?" said a friend, as we were walking along one of the higher level roads last week. "Yes, why do you ask?" "Well, doesn't that remind you of Mr. Dick, the author of 'King Charles Memorial'?" said he, pointing to a chimney top. I saw a middle aged European on the top of a chimney lying a kite, and exerting himself so much that he appeared to be in imminent risk of falling from his perch. Little David considered it very amusing that a man should put in his hours of recreation at kite flying, but how much more delighted would he have been had he seen his Mr. Dick silhouetted against the sky on a chimney top.
